

Afterglow

a novel by Eowyn Wood

Publisher: Crooked Hills Publishing

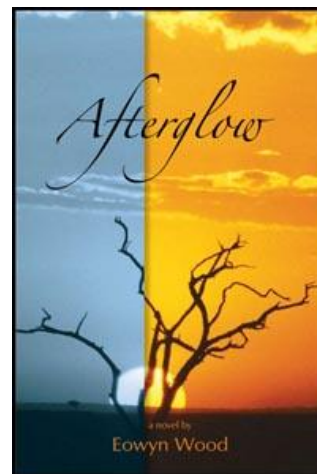

Publication date: April 1, 2010

Category: Adult Fiction / GLBT (Gay) Fiction

List Price: $23.95

Distributor: Baker & Taylor
Also available direct from publisher

ISBN: 978-0-977873-81-4, soft cover, 6 x 9, 735 pages

Sequel to Award-winning Naked in the Rain

Brian and River have escaped the Houses, but can they survive Los Angeles on their own? Drugs and childhood demons seem set to destroy them. Not to mention working the streets...

Is their love and Brian's music enough to survive the ultimate test? Crisis leads to a journey across the country to face the past, to Arizona to find peace, and finally to Portland, Oregon to find a home.

About the Author:

In addition to her work as an author, Eowyn Wood edits for Crooked Hills Publishing and works at a non-profit AIDS service organization. Wood resides in Portland, Oregon.

Target audience: Gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender (GLBT) community. Also music enthusiasts; Goth and underground culture; and readers of Anne Rice, JT LeRoy and Scott Heim.

Praise for Naked in the Rain:

“In Wood’s deft hands the book is like a Rorschach test...a modern subversive fairytale or a gritty post-gay drama...charming readers with its readability.” - Curve Magazine

“Sometimes sensual, sometimes horrifying introspection into both human sexual depravity, and human ardor.” - Midwest Book Review

Publisher Contact: Erika Collins, Crooked Hills Publishing
(503) 975-6401, Fax (503) 296-2394, ecollins@crookedhills.com

More info at www.crookedhills.com and www.eowynwood.com